

NCNS NEWSLETTER

The Greater Ottawa Area Community of Sculptors

Welcome to our first newsletter for the National Capital Network of Sculptors. Actually, this is a renewal of a concept we used to have, many years ago. The low attendance at our monthly meetings means we rely more and more on technology and these newsletters will give us the opportunity to stay connected.

Shenkman Display Case

This display of some of our work will be in the lobby from April 3-30. We have 9 sculptures so far (not all confirmed) and a few more would be welcome. You can send a picture, size and price to Nadine Argo at nadineargo@gmail.com

Online Gallery

Still time to put an entry (actually on going). Send photo, details and price to fgrice@sympatico.ca and I will pass it on to Ljiljana

Studio Tour

Posters and postcards are at the printers and can be picked up April 24th at the meeting.

OTHER MEMBERSHIP NEWS

Thunder Bay Snow Sculptors

James Cook and Uwe Foehring travelled to Thunder Bay for a snow carving event. Like James said they did not win the prize but set a gold standard for snow carving. They were the carver's choice.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

City of Ottawa Art Collection

After amalgamation in 2001, artworks from the Region of Ottawa–Carleton and 11 municipalities were brought together as one art collection. Today, the City of Ottawa Art Collection is comprised of more than 2,700 artworks created by over 745 artists including Shahla Bahrami, Jennifer Dickson, Lorraine Gilbert, Adrian Göllner, Yousuf Karsh, Farouk Kaspales and Cynthia O'Brien.
